HUMOUR

A male bridge player had been marooned on a deserted island for ten years, when one day he noticed a speck on the horizon. He watched intently as it drew near and suddenly a beautiful woman wearing scuba gear and a wetsuit, emerged from the sea.

“Hi there,” she said.

The man was amazed. “How did you get here?” he asked.

“Never mind that,” said the woman. She unzipped the left pocket of her wetsuit and handed him a cigarette.

“Wow! Terrific! I haven’t had a cigarette in ten years.”

“Enjoy!” said the woman, unzipping her right pocket and handing him a flask of whisky.

“I can’t believe it! This tastes so good,” commented the man.

Next the woman started to undo the long zipper down the front of her wetsuit. “Now I’ve got something you must want really badly.”

“What!” he exclaimed. “Don’t tell me you’ve got a pack of cards in there as well?”
